CORAM : J.N. PATEL &
SMT. ROSHAN DALVI, JJ.

DATED : 11th April, 2007

P.C. :

1. Heard.

2. There will be interim order in terms of prayer clause (a).

3. In so far as question of grant of interim maintenance is concerned, admittedly, the Applicant/Appellant/-wife is not gainfully employed and deserves to be maintained during the pendency of both the Appeals. Basic necessities of life include food, shelter, clothes, medical treatment, which, considering the present level of prices, can be barely met within a sum of Rs.3,000/-. If it is considered that the Applicant-Appellant is having children as she is residing with the family, and is having shelter a sum of Rs.3,000/- would be bare minimum and, therefore, during the pendency of both the Appeals, the Respondent-husband shall pay to the Applicant/Appellant-wife a sum of Rs.3,000/- by way of interim maintenance commencing from the month of April 2007. Maintenance to be paid on or before 10th of the following month.

4. Both the Civil Applications stand disposed of accordingly.
